

As a truck driver I can finally find out about traffic and weather in cities that I am in route to. To do away with this would be a travesty. It is nice to finally have some form of radio to listen to without having to find a new station every 50 miles or so. Satellite radio!!!! Finally something good happens for a working class american and once again the government is trying to take it away. This is not fair to people who spend the majority of the time they are awake driving. WE finally have something to call our own. You would think that government officials would have some compassion for the american truckdriver, but I guess that is too much to ask.
